Comment on the EOI

Armira Partners is an invest firm based in Germany. We thank ICANN for the opportunity to comment on the EOI.

We strongly support all points that are presented by the EOI. We are working within the internet environment and see only advantages by the introduction of new top level domains. We have been following this process and are still surprised that ICANN still has not introduced new top level domains.

We believe that there are important and good reasons for this. We think that the EOI will put away many concerns and that will help to finally bring more choice and diversity to the internet space.

We urge you to go forward with the EOI and withstand any further delays.

Thank you very much, best regards

Alexander Schemann
